LONDON 17-21 AUG

Have you heard the story of the little old town?

The rural town of Olympus has fallen into a steady rhythm under the fixed control of Zeus. Immortality grows rife, power is corrupt and nothing is a secret for long. Yet for the young Persephone, who lives hidden away in the fields, the little old town is nothing but a story.

With the arrival of a mysterious stranger, Persephone is set on a journey that'll entwine her and Olympus forever. For this is a world of folklore, but also a world of immortality, and when you live forever there is one thing everyone craves but no one can keep for long: youth.

Described by critics as a “a slick, substantial and thrilling show” (Daily Info) and “the best of classical versus modern storytelling” (Breaking the Fourth Wall), this new folk-rock musical premiered at the Oxford Playhouse in November 2021, and it is now touring to four cities in England:
